It is expected that fluring the first half of the week there will be more people upon the grounds than during all the other time of the glow, Special efforts have been made, and extraordinary purses have been offered, with a view to making these trials the best ever witnessed upon a Virginia race-pourse. The degree of success reached in this respect is attented already in the this respect is attested already in the number of horses entered, and the records they have made. Certainly the racing will be the most interesting feature of the Exposition. More than $5,000 has been offered in prizes, and there are to be trotting and running trials for almost all classes of horses. From the surry-first, which is published below, it will be seen that not only Virginia, but several other States, including Kentucky, are to be represented.

The Dispatch booth, which is located at the left-hand side of the main entrance the left-hand side of the main entrance to the Exposition building, is a sort of general-meeting place for nearly everybody who goes to the big show. It is centrally located, and, therefore, a convenient point for friends to join each other. Besides this, there is always something of interest there. The guessing at the type in the jar, in which contest there are offered several handsome prizes; the printing of cards and badges as souvenirs of the Exposition, and the builtining of the latest news from all parts of the world, do not fail to attract the attention of passers-by. The badge printing scheme was quite a popular one yesterday, and several thousand of these souvenirs were struck off and distributed among the visitors to the Fair.
